BOOKKEEPING II

Thursday, January 24, $1935-9.15$ a. m. to 12.15 p. m., only

Abstract

Write at top of first page of answer paper (a) name of school where you have studied, (b) number of weeks and recitations a week in each of the following separately: bookkeeping I, bookkeeping II. The minimum time requirement is five recitations a week for two school years.

Answer four questions, including both of the questions in group $I$, one question from group II and one from group III.

Group I

Answer questions 1 and 2.

1 On December 17, 1934, the pencil footings of the columns in Hardy & Cole's general journal and cashbook were: General journal, debit side - Notes Receivable $1250, Accounts Payable $963.80, General Ledger $807.15; credit side - General Ledger $742.60, Accounts Receivable $1528.35, Notes Payable $$ 750$; Cashbook, receipts side - General Ledger $692, Accounts Receiváble $4317.28, Sales Discount $69.81, Net Cash $4939.47; payments side - General Ledger $$ 2283.45$, Accounts Payable $3005.60, Purchases, Discount $76.12, Net Cash $5212.93.

As bookkeeper for the firm, bring these column totals forward in the general journal and the cashbook. Make, with sufficient explanations, entries for the following selected transactions, checking all items that should not be posted separately:

December 17 Drew a check for $$ 12.40$ to the order of the Middle States Railroad Company for freight charges on merchandise purchased F.O.B. Wilmington, Delaware.

December 18 Received from L. Carroll, to apply on his account, a. 60 day trade acceptance for $$ 320$, which we drew on him December 13 .

December 18 Mailed a check to Winter & Lunt in payment of invoice of November 19 for $$ 511$, less $2 \%$.

December 19 Received notice from the bank that our account was credited with the collection of P. Ditson's 60 -day note for $$ 225$, bearing interest at $4 \%$.

December 20 Mailed a check to $H$. Strayer & Son in payment of invoice of December 10 for $348.

December 20 G. Fuller installed showcases in our salesroom and took in payment our 30-day note for $$ 250$, with interest at $6 \%$.

December 21 Received F. M. Eggleston's check in payment of invoice of November 21 for $$ 96.75$, less $1 \%$.

December 21 Discounted at the bank our 60-day note for $$ 600$, dated today, and received credit for the net proceeds.

December 22 Received a credit memorandum for $$ 24.80$ from the Homespun Textile Company for defective cloth returned to them December 15.

December 24 Gave a check for $$ 58.50$ to C. Fowler, our insurance broker, in payment of premium on fire policy No. 36,407 , issued by the Independent Insurance Company.

December 24 Received a check for $$ 6.96$ from H. Strayer & Son, representing a cash discount of $2 \%$ that we failed to deduct from the invoice in our remittance of December 20.

December 26 R . Hepburn gave us a check in payment of the following invoices: November 26, $\$ 194$; December 18, $\$ 210$. Terms on all bills were ${ }^{2} / 10 \mathrm{n} / 30$. Mr Hepburn deducted the discount on the December invoice.

December 27 Martin Hardy, a member of the firm, took for personal use merchandise inventoried at $$ 35$.

December 27 Received notice from the bank that our account was charged with $$ 425$ for payment of trade acceptance given to Gilman & King October 27.

December 28 Received $$ 15.20$, collected on a C.O.D. postal shipment of merchandise to J. Tanner on December 24.

December 28 Met our 90 -day note at the bank for $$ 500$, with interest at $6 \%$, in favor of Munsey Bros.

December 29 N. Graham, a customer, owed us $$ 120$. He was discharged in bankruptcy by settling with his creditors for 25 cents on the dollar. We accepted his check on this basis and closed his account.

December 31 Issued a check to replenish the petty cash fund for the following petty cash disbursements made during the month: office expense $$ 7.30$, shipping and delivery expense $$ 9.65$, sales expense $$ 6.40$.

Assume that the cash on hand, as short-extended in the cashbook at the beginning of the month, was $$ 2564.30$. Close the cashbook and bring down the new balance. Foot and rule the general journal. Indicate clearly how totals are to be posted, but do not post. [50]

Answer each of the following questions: [15]
$a$ Why is the balance as reported on the bank statement greater than the check-book balance on December 31?
$b$ How did the bookkeeper determine what checks were outstanding?
c. Why is check No. 290 for $$ 150$ listed but not deducted from the bank balance as were the other two outstanding checks?
d State a reason for having check No. 290 certified.
$e$. What information concerning the bank account did not appear in the check book when it was balanced on December 31?
4 B. Carlson and D. Lewis are two merchants, each conducting a cutlery shop in your community. They decide to form a copartnership for the purpose of operating the two stores under the firm name of the Cârlson-Lewis Cutlery Shops. The new firm is to take over each partner's assets and to assume each partner's liabilities. It is further agreed to admit R. Horner, who is to invest a cash sum sufficient to give him a one-third interest in the business. The balance sheets submitted by Carlson and Lewis are as follows:
B. CARLSON

Balance Sheet, January 24, 1935

Assuming that the terms of the agreement have been carried out today, prepare the balance sheet of the new firm, showing each partner's net worth. [Classification of assets and liabilities not required] [15]

Group III
Answer one question from this group.

Abstract

5 Answer both parts of this question: a. Many partnership agreements contain a clause which provides that, when profits are to be divided, each partner is to receive a stipulated rate of interest on his investment before any further division of profits is made. Write a paragraph explaining the purpose of this provision. [5] $b$ In recording the discounting of notes receivable, it is better to credit a special account than to credit the Notes Receivable account. Indicate how the notes receivable on hand are shown on the balance sheet when there is a balance in this special account [2]. Why is it preferable to use this special account to record the discounting of notes receivable [3]?
